

Quigley Meets with Constituents at Neighborhood Street Fests

Thursday, 14 July 2011 13:23

CHICAGO—After a full week of meeting constituents back home in the district, U.S. Representative Mike Quigley (IL-05) spent the weekend touring neighborhood street festivals. He sampled mouth-watering burgers at Roscoe Village Chamber of Commerce’s Burgerfest, stopped by Welles Park for Old Town School of Music’s Chicago Folk & Roots Festival, and chose the lucky raffle winner at the Neighborhood Boys and Girls Club’s Family Fest.

“It’s a wonderful privilege to meet with my neighbors and hear their thoughts, especially during these great Chicago summer festivals,” said Quigley. “No matter how much time I spend in Washington, my community is where I truly feel at home.”

Rep. Quigley speaks with John Manilow, owner of John's Place, during Roscoe Village's Burgerfest

Quigley Meets with Constituents at Neighborhood Street Fests

Thursday, 14 July 2011 13:23

Quigley meets with constituents at Neighborhood Street Fests

Quigley addresses the crowd at Neighborhood Street Fests

Quigley Meets with Constituents at Neighborhood Street Fests

Thursday, 14 July 2011 13:23

Rep. Estay blindfolded while playing the $10,000 table top game at the family Fest