

CHICAGO, IL - Later this month, Congressman Mike Quigley (D-IL) will hold a series of constituent service fairs across the district to serve those who need assistance and allow constituents to meet and work with Cong. Quigley's new team of experienced staff members.

"These fairs are a great opportunity for me and my staff to reach out to the people who need our help most in the district," said Rep. Quigley. "I look forward to expanding our services, reaching out to new families, and ensuring that the residents of the 5th District are well-represented. I'm also proud that we've been able to bring several service providers together under one roof, so that people can get the most assistance possible all at once."

These fairs, in addition to the continuation of the "Congress on your Corner" series and an expanded district staff, will allow Rep. Quigley to better serve those residing in the 5th District. The June fairs are the first in a series of forums that Rep. Quigley will be holding throughout the year in various parts of the district.
